this is the new porcelain stoneware collection tailored to the needs of sophisticated architecture. Grey is never just plain grey: eight different shades span the spectrum between deep black and pure white. This provides architects and interior designers with a self contained collection of porcelain stoneware tiles of the very highest quality for commercial applications. Three different surface textures and a host of different formats complete the collection.

class 5

just beige

the new porcelain stoneware range offers a variety of beige tones. The harmonious colour sequence in the classically understated basic collection sets off sophisticated architectural design to perfection. The eight coordinated tones and three surface structures give a subtly exclusive feeling to any room.
